The technology and spells ban affects visitors

"The spell ensures that we can maintain our traditions without outside interference."

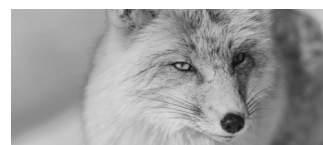

BY ESS KANINE

Guardians of the City of Winds always maintained a delicate equilibrium between the natural and the supernatural. With more travellers arriving on the train, lured by the riches of the local markets and wielding advanced technology and earth-shattering magic, the guardians had to make an unprecedented move, performing a ritual that affected the whole of the city, and parts of the nearby desert.

This spell, extraordinary in its scope, has effectively nullified the use of high-level magic and modern technology. Visitors report that their devices have ceased to function, and spells of significant power simply fizzle out. The druids, in a rare public statement, emphasised that the ritual was necessary to preserve the city's unique essence and to prevent the erosion of its magical and natural harmony.

The spell has ignited a broader debate about the integration of modern technology and ancient magic. Scholars and leaders from Sinder and other regions are calling for dialogue to find a middle ground. "We must respect the traditions of the City of Winds while finding ways to coexist," clarified the chief historian of Palazzo Bainco, the Rift-renown school of wizardry and magic, "as our own history shows, some magical knowledge must be contained for the benefit of others." ### Is anal sex where it all goes?

OPINION

Sexual pleasure is a fundamental aspect of life in Sinder, and for many, anal sex can be a deeply gratifying activity. The rectum is rich with nerve endings, which can provide pleasurable sensations for both partners. For those with prostates, anal stimulation can lead to powerful orgasms. For others, the sensation of fullness and the novel experience can be intensely enjoyable. It's essential to approach this with an open mind and a willingness to explore what feels good for both partners involved.

La Faille publishes opinion from a wide range of perspectives in hopes of promoting constructive debate about consequential questions.

Premature ejaculation

BY JOHN PAUL ALEXANDER

Chaos reigned and rained yesterday after an explosion at the local aphrodisiac factory brings aerosolized love to the community. Although officials are being mum on the actual causes, the initial suspicion is that a leap within the primary pressurised brewing tank convinced a substantial portion of the factory staff to become hyper aroused and nymphomaniacal, leading to an orgy that likes of which can only be approached through the distance of clinical abstraction.

Dragon firefighting crews arrive at the site, ready to battle with the cock-shaped clouds.

Sources familiar with the matter who commented on conditions of anonymity suggested that the actual details of the execution of the orgy are two extreme to say or print, but that they suspected that several members of a containment team, in a lust fuelled frenzy of creative expression of sexual desire installed ad-hoc orifices on the primary containment vessel and proceeded to fuck it completely. The subsequent pressurised explosion released aphrodisiac vapor across the south

In the woods

THE FOREST

BY MIRANDA ÔKAMIMI-LANCASTER

Although in years past Legends of the hidden treasures up in the deep woods drew many into those dark recesses, of late the area has been so thoroughly examined that the legends have become myths. But these days there's another sort of special gift that seems to be drawing very particular adventurers deep into the woods.

Reports have been coming out from the forest around the campgrounds that some kind of substantive beast is prowling in the dark. Reportedly sporting multiple tentacles with a vaguely feline or canine body and a genuinely enormous and impressive endowment, a new generation of treasure hunters have been seeking this beast.

While some speculate that there's a bounty on the creature in one of the more seedy parts of the realm, No one has yet managed to capture or incapacitate the beast, most returning to town with an air of beaten satisfaction and a suspicious humidity to them instead of a bounty.
